
ALL SAINTS EPISCOPAL SCHOOL

NEW STUDENTS' WEEK

All Saints opened its eightieth year with two days of activities designed to acclimate the students to their new environment and to help them become a part of the "All Saints' family." Saturday activities included moving into the dormitories, registering in the library, eating supper on the Bishop's Terrace, and ending with getting acquainted activities in the gym. On Sunday, parents first accompanied their children to classes and then attended services in the chapel. After the parents departure, students were eager to begin the challenges and opportunities offered to them at All Saints Episcopal School.

Above: Miss Ike explains to the group of new students and their parents how to play the upcoming game.

Middle: Kent Lander shows Lee Gray's father how the "new Game" is played.

Below: Junior counselors, Peter Duncan, Steven Tye, and Angela Payne, speak with the group of new students after a long day of activities.

ACTIVITIES AND THINGS

LAS VEGAS NIGHT —
Bright lights and fast action — high stakes, glitter and glamour are all part of All Saints' version of Las Vegas Night. Sponsored and produced by the senior class and rec staff with help from classroom teachers, Las Vegas night gave underclassmen an opportunity to win tickets to bid on big prizes and contribute towards the prom fund.

Right: Poker, Black Jack and Roulette tables begin to warm up while "bunnies" serve drinks. Students could also bet on the horses or play computer bingo for the opportunity to put a pie in a senior's face during senior raid.

Middle Right: Mr. Gressett times Tate as he tries to solve a horseshoe puzzle.

Below: "Bunny" Lyn Luckett attaches a message to a "balloon-gram".

Senior Raid!
Here we go again — Get ready for some sophisticated fun.
What could be more invigorating than rising at dawn for a refreshing dip after an enlightening question and answer session, having the opportunity to express oneself in an uninhibited manner, and have "Pie-in-the-face" for breakfast.
"I knew it was today"
"Wait until next year"
"Tell us again, Sarah, "Who do you love?"

ANGELS AND DEVILS PRESENT "ONE CRAZY DA

"One Crazy Day"
Every aspect of production of the skits "One Crazy Day" including idea development, script, program design, scenery, acting, lighting, costumes, special effects, acting and direction was done entirely by students. After several weeks of intense work by both teams, the shows open to enthusiastic applause of fellow students, parents, guests, faculty and staff. Judges notes included such adjectives as excellent, creative, entertaining and great.
Memorable performances were delivered by Angels James Davidson as Wendell and Catherine Baker as century as they sung and danced their way into each other hearts, and Devils Curran Burke as Fido in hot pursuits of cat Katherine Higgins.

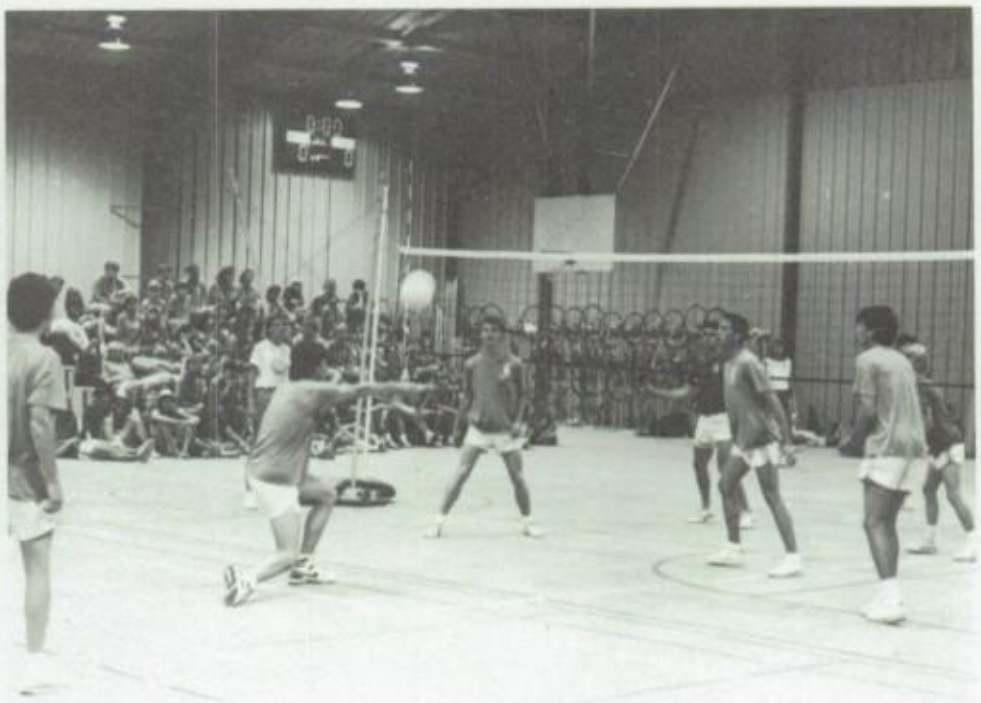
FIELD DAYS

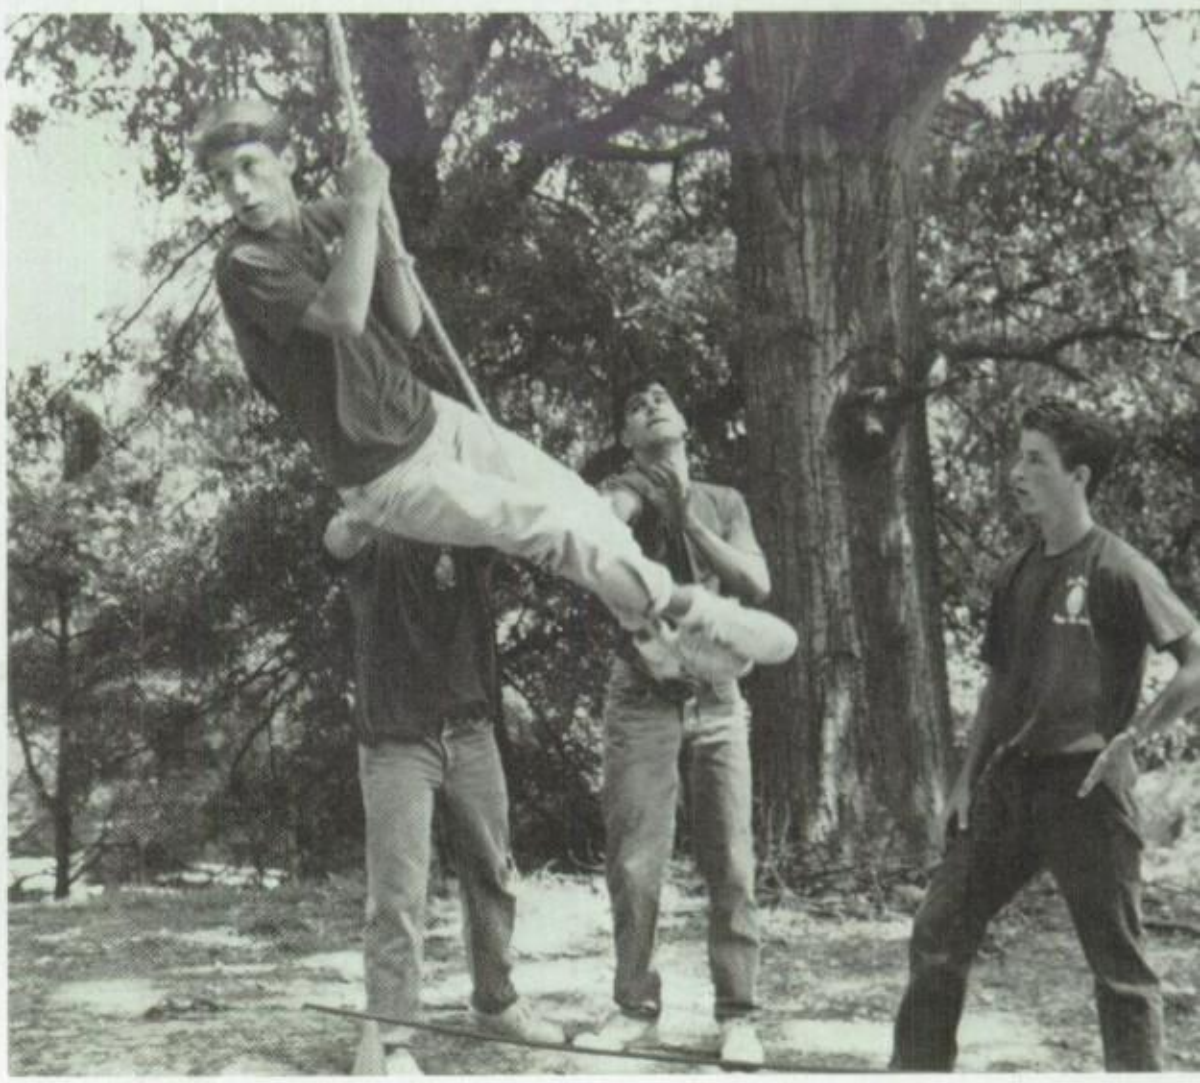
Miss Ike cleans up any confusion students and faculty might have prior to the beginning of Field Day activities as members of the Rec. Staff and team captains stand by.

Below: Track and Field events get underway

Opposite Top: — A new event this year, bleach ball, provided some intense competition and thrilling action.

Opposite Bottom: Volleyball, as always, was one of two high lights of the two day competition.





PROJECT ADVENTURE

Team work and cooperation are essential as students race against the clock in the Project Adventure competition.

A LOOK AT SOME OF THE ACTION IN THE STANDS AND ON THE SIDE LINES

Above: The thrill of Victory after the Devils win the Giant Relay.

The last of the competition is over and, after team meetings, Angels and Devils gather behind Johnson Hall and anxiously await the announcement of Field Day awards, the Skit winner and School Trophy winner for 1988.

Members of the Rec Staff announce the team winners in various events and Angel and Devil officers present medals to the Most Valuable Players. The Devils take honors for most wins in individual events (12-11) while the Angels edge out their opponents in team competition, including a very exciting and close Giant Relay, finishing just three minutes ahead of the Devil team. The Angel team wins the Skit competition 877.4 to 798, but it isn't enough to catch the tough Devil team who claims the School trophy for 1988 with a score of 8707.2 to 8422.9. Congratulations to both teams for the excellence of competition and sportsmanship demonstrated throughout the year.

Top: Andrew Brewer accepts the Most Outstanding Boy Tennis Player award.

Graduation Dance
The graduation dance was held in the newly renovated city auditorium decorated by the Rec Staff and students in pastel reds and lavender with spectacular lights and metalic streamers all around.

Right: Brad Ramsey escorts his mother during "lead out"

Second Page:

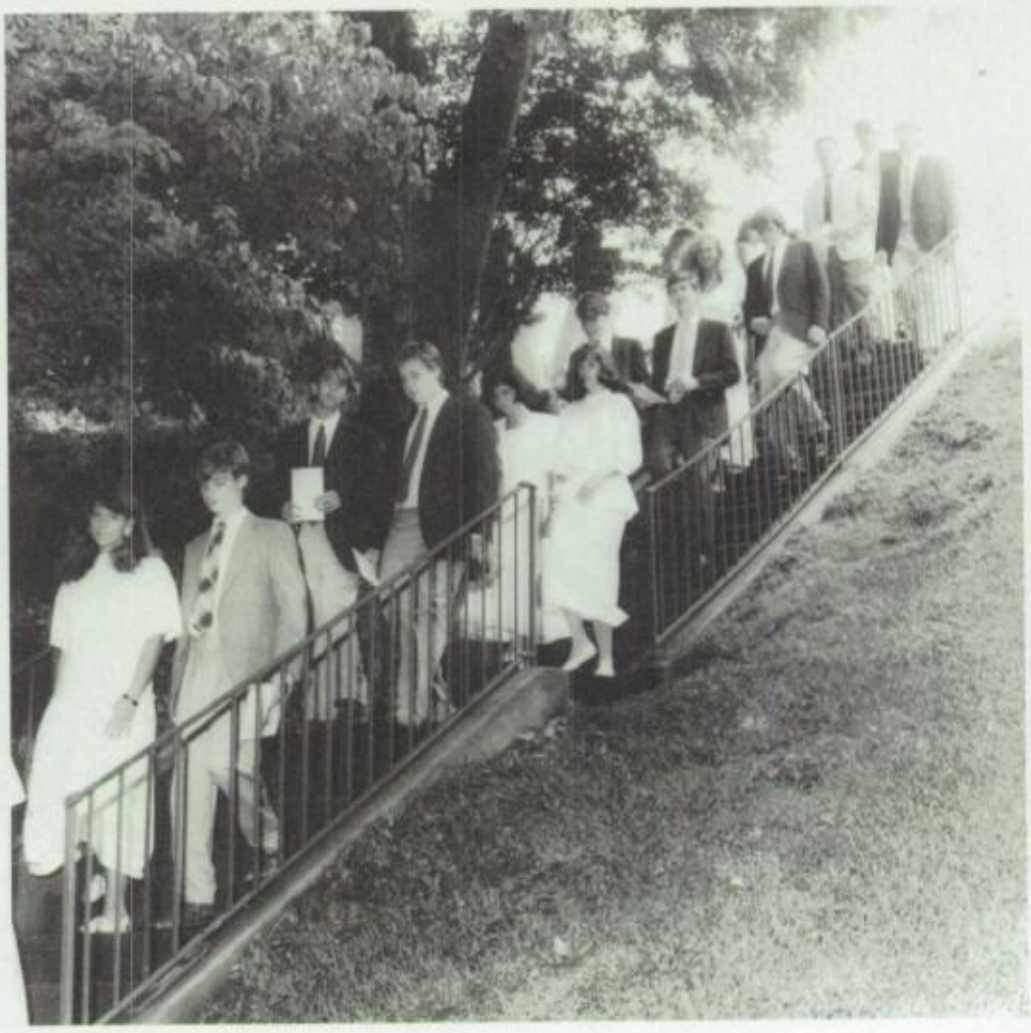
Right: Catherine Pitts and Fletcher Powell ready to march down the steps.

Below Left: Platte Wilson, the last student to go down and the first one to come back up, waits at the end of the line.

Below Right: Fr. Luckett gives Seniors last minute instructions.



Graduation:
After a few anxious moments due to rain, the sun came out and Graduation in the dell was on.

Above Left and Right: Faculty and staff process into the dell.

After the conferring of diplomas and Benediction, underclassmen processed up the hill and lined-up on either side of the steps to say good-bye to the Seniors as they passed between them. It was a time for smiles, a time for tears, but most of all, a time for celebration.

Best wishes to the class of nineteen eighty-eight from the faculty and staff at All Saints' and, as Fr. Byrd said in his last sermon of the year, "Have a good life."
